

Business Mentor Skills Training

Venues in Bristol,
London and Leeds

Frequently asked question:

As a successful business person why do I need training to mentor?

Answer:

It is a very different skill mentoring someone to be successful than it is being a success yourself.

In House

We come to your premises and run the workshops in house tailoring to time constraints if necessary.

The Trainers

Isla Baliszewska has been a speaker at The Mindful Employer Network, the Research Councils, Wiltshire Police and Thring Townsend in addition to networking events. She has delivered workshops for Wiltshire Police, New College, A4E, Reading Council, Wiltshire Council and private development groups and teams on subjects including entrepreneurship, handling and understanding uncertainty, the emotional journey at work, and building confidence and resilience.

Kerrie Dorman has been mentoring for ten years post the sale of her last business. She designed these short courses to fill a gap for practical mentoring skills and tools. She now delivers these courses over the country for a variety of clients and individuals.

These one day workshop style courses are designed for anyone who incorporates mentoring in their working lives. They are interactive focussing on real life mentoring with lots of examples. Tools and techniques are included to take away along with a copy of the Mentoring Manual by Julie Starr.

Clients Include:

Fundamentals: Can be taken by anyone with an interest in Mentoring.

History of Mentoring

Boundaries and Structure

Skill sets required

Tools and Techniques

Advanced: mentoring experience with at least three mentees and general knowledge of topics in Fundamentals.

Breaking the barriers and achieving results

Combining coach techniques with mentoring skills and experience

Effective communication dealing with a variety of personalities

Two pronged approach; mindset and structure

Elite: high level mentoring to work high growth companies and in the corporate arena

Building individual methods

Mentoring through severe stress level situations

Mindset and shifting behaviours

Achieving clarity on how your client operates and facilitating change for the long term

Accrediting Body is The IIC&M and we are Approved Training Providers by the Association of Business Mentors. To achieve accreditation there is a requirement for work submission and a minimum amount of mentoring hours.

Contact & booking: www.trainingforbusinessmentors.com | www.AssociationofBusinessMentors.Org | 07875296155

Business Mentor Skills Training is part of Kerrie Dorman Limited is a limited liability company registered in England and Wales with company number 8115254

Registered office: The White House, 19 Ash Street, Ash, Hants GU12 6LD | VAT registration number 140845620